

Bilingual in New Brunswick at the A2 level

Here are a few examples of what I can do:

Name of the student:

Date (yyyy-mm-dd):

A2	 <h2>Listening</h2>	Without help - easily	With a little help	With a lot of help	This is a goal
A2.1	I can understand simple information and questions about personal topics or my interests.
	I can understand what people say to me in short, simple conversations if they speak clearly and slowly.
	I can understand short stories or presentations if people speak clearly and slowly.
	I can understand a short, simple text if I know the main words and ideas.
	I can also:
A2.2	I can understand simple directions if the route is explained slowly and clearly.
	I can follow simple, concrete instructions especially if there is a demonstration.
	I can understand a simple recording about a topic I know.
	I can understand simple advertisements.
	I can also:

Bilingual in New Brunswick at the A2 level

Here are a few examples of what I can do:

Name of the student:

Date (yyyy-mm-dd):

A2	 <h2>Reading</h2>	Without help - easily	With a little help	With a lot of help	This is a goal
A2.1	I can understand most of what I read in short, simple texts on familiar subjects.
	I can understand the main ideas in short, simple texts.
	I can follow much of a simple short story.
	I can understand most descriptions of people, places or situations.
	I can also:
A2.2	I can identify some of the main information in short, simple factual texts where numbers, names, illustrations are very important.
	I can find important information in short written instructions or rules.
	I can understand the main points in a variety of texts.
	I can understand a personal letter or email where the person is writing about familiar subjects or asking me questions.
	I can also:

Bilingual in New Brunswick at the A2 level

Here are a few examples of what I can do:

Name of the student:

Date (yyyy-mm-dd):

A2	 Oral interaction	Without help - easily	With a little help	With a lot of help	 This is a goal
A2.1	I can wish someone a happy birthday and respond to other greetings.
	I can ask simple, familiar questions and react to what other people say.
	I can make and accept invitations, or refuse them politely.
	I can ask and answer simple questions about past events.
	I can also:
A2.2	I can explain to someone how to go to a particular place.
	I can maintain simple conversations about familiar topics.
	I can ask for and give simple opinions, and agree or disagree in a simple way.
	I can ask and answer simple questions about events in the future.
	I can also:

A2	 <h2 style="text-align: center;">Oral production</h2>	Without help - easily	With a little help	With a lot of help	This is a goal
A2.1	I can talk about my favorite foods, music, sports and clothes.
	I can talk briefly about things I am going to do on the weekend.
	I can describe my activities, my daily routines, my hobbies and my interests.
	I can talk about something I know well: a sports team, a band, a hobby.
	I can also:
A2.2	I can describe the places, seasons, objects or activities I like best and briefly explain why.
	I can share information on celebrations, traditions and other special events.
	I can use most numbers without hesitation (e.g., time, years and prices).
	I can describe past activities, events and personal experiences, as well as future ones.
	I can summarize simple stories using the language used in the story.
	I can also:

Bilingual in New Brunswick at the A2 level

Here are a few examples of what I can do:

Name of the student:

Date (yyyy-mm-dd):

A2	 <h2>Writing</h2>	Without help - easily	With a little help	With a lot of help	This is a goal
A2.1	I can write about people and things I know well using simple sentences and expressions.
	I can explain where I live and how to get there with the help of a drawing or simple map.
	I can write the beginning or continue a story or simple text by following a model.
	I can write and connect simple sentences using words such as: and, or, but, because.
	I can also:
A2.2	I can describe objects, places and people using a variety of simple sentences.
	I can write about events and experiences by describing what happened, when and where.
	I can write simple stories or texts on familiar subjects and I can connect my ideas.
	I can also:				